2021 VIRTUAL Daffodil Day Program

On Wednesday, April 21, 2021, at 11:00 am via Zoom, join Barry Burton, head of landscape design for the City of Detroit, as he takes us on a VIRTUAL trip around the city to show us beautifully restored or newly created parks. A map of the city will be provided to help us go on our own REAL daffodil adventures afterward! Detroit is a city of flowers. Don't miss the experience!

Barry's tour, plus daffodil-related items from The Peacock Room and Laurie Tennent, will be presented virtually on Wednesday, April 21, beginning at 11:00 am. Zoom registration information is posted on the Michigan Division's Daffodils4Detroit web page.

We began with one central idea: to make something beautiful! The project has grown to more than two million bulbs planted, a partnership with the City of Detroit, and a city uplifted with restored parks and new gardens.

Two years ago, we fulfilled our pledge to plant 650,000 daffodil bulbs on Belle Isle, one for each resident of Detroit, and we reinvigorated our partnership with the City of Detroit. Working together, we have planted bulbs all over the city.
